Steel Strike May Cause Halt To Arms Output

Steel Supply To Last Until August; Impact Of Stoppage Being Felt

WASHINGTON (AP)—Industry and the military say the nation's arms production — everything from jet engines to atom bombs and nuclear submarines—will come to a virtual halt within a few weeks if the steel strike continues.

A survey of manufacturers and defense experts today showed that in general enough steel is on hand to eke out production until some time in August, but that in some instances the impact of the steel production stoppage already is being felt.

The situation goes beyond the non-delivery of finished weapons themselves. If the hard steel needed for tools can't be had, the weapons can't be made. The effect of that can be far-reaching.

Secretary of Defense Lovett, calling the potential effect of the strike very serious, already has moved to get into arms production channels the comparatively small amounts of steel production and finished steel still available.

One action was to get steel out of warehouses and into weapons-making plants. The CIO Steelworkers Union headquarters at Pittsburgh telegraphed orders last night to pass such defense materials through picket lines.

The Defense Department has requested contractors to shift steel orders to non-struck plants. There aren't many of these.

But the department expects both measures to produce only minute amounts of steel compared with the vast tonnages needed.

Lt. Gen. E. W. Rawlings, commanding general of the Air Materiel Command, said last night the strike has not greatly affected

ONE FOOT FROM DEATH — David Kerr, left, hangs head-downward from a 110-foot flagpole on lawn of Snobomish County Courthouse, Everett, Wash., as Bert Justice, lineman for the county utility district, climbs pole to rescue him. Kerr, who was painting the pole, slipped out of his boson's chair, and his foot caught in a safety rope. He hung head-downward for 30 minutes, until Justice, right, eased him down the pole.

Truman Gets Bill To Boost Marines' Influence And Size

WASHINGTON (AP)—A bill raising the size of the Marine Corps, and giving the Leathernecks more independence and influence in the military establishment, landed on President Truman's desk today.

There was nothing to indicate whether Truman—who came off second-best in one famed row with the Marines—would sign the measure into law or risk another controversy by rejecting it.

The President and the Marine Corps tangled last over a 1950 letter in which Truman said the Marines had a propaganda machine equal to Stalin's. Some ex-Marines happened to be holding a convention at the time, and raised the roof. Truman apologized to them in person.

Considerable enthusiasm — nobody used the word propaganda this time — on the part of ex-Marines in Congress put steam behind the new bill which whipped through both Houses yesterday by unanimous voice votes.

Thereupon, Sen. Douglas (D-Ill.), a wounded and decorated Marine officer in World War II, congratulated Congress.

Douglas said the bill, of which he was a sponsor, would keep the Joint Chiefs of Staff from scuttling the Marine Corps as a combat organization. That, he said, had been urged by some Army and Air Force generals.

Sen. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) delayed Senate approval for a little while. He wanted to know if the bill would let the President use the Marines as a kind of private army any place in the world whenever he felt like it.

Sens. Long (D-La.) and Sen. Stennis (D-Miss) assured him it would do nothing of the sort. Any such impression, they said, could be traced to a loosely-worded report by the House Armed Services Committee.

Long, a Navy officer during the war, skipped the measure on the Senate floor.

As originally introduced, the bill would have given the Marine commandant status on the Joint Chiefs of Staff equal to that of the Navy, Air Force and Army members. The joint chiefs opposed this. A compromise, fashioned to meet all objections, was worked out.

Summer's Official Debut To Be Saturday Morning

NEW YORK (AP) — Summer will begin officially Saturday at 6:13 a. m., EST.

Saturday marks the arrival of the summer solstice, when the sun rises farthest north of east, reaches its greatest noon altitude, and sets equally far north of west.

At this time, when the sun attains its farthest north declination, summer begins officially for the northern hemisphere, Robert R. Coles, chairman of the Hayden Planetarium, points out.

McGranery Says Firing Of D. A. Step In Cleanup

Promises He'll Give Public Facts Promptly; Kansas Took Fee Cut

WASHINGTON (AP)—Atty. Gen. McGranery says the firing of the U.S. district attorney for Kansas is just one step in a methodical housecleaning the Justice Department is conducting "in our own quiet little way."

McGranery, in office only three weeks, announced yesterday that Federal Prosecutor Lester Luther, 63, had been dismissed by President Truman at his request because of evidence the Kansas accepted a $2,000 cut of a $5,000 fee in a pending tax dispute case.

Seated at his desk, fingering a file of photostatic copies of canceled checks and documents, McGranery told newsmen if he finds evidence of any other misconduct he will let the public know about it immediately.

"It will be put right on top of the table," said the new attorney general, who has been given the role of government cleanup chief. "In our own quiet little way, that's how we are going to clean this thing up."

McGranery said a special grand jury will be called promptly at Topeka, Kan., to study evidence Luther shared in fees paid to another federal employee, Nicholas Lopes, for representing the Dolite Company of Toledo in a tax case.

Luther told reporters at his Topeka home that he and Lopes shared in fees from the firm, but denied he had taken any money illegitimately. He said his dismissal came as a complete surprise.

Lopes, who resigned his job as a trial attorney in the Justice Department's Criminal Division May 9, would make no comment.

But Luther said the money they received was for giving legal advice in connection with a large construction job—and not for acting in a tax case.

"Such a job is permissible under law and the attorney general's manual of regulations," Luther said. "It is regular practice for district attorneys to do jobs like this."

In Toledo, John J. Kendrick, attorney for the Dolite Company, said Lopes had represented the firm on special legal work, but never in a tax case. He said he did not know Luther.

Prior to yesterday's action, McGranery had accepted the resignations of three—exactly one half—of the top aides left over from the regime of Atty. Gen. J. Howard McGrath.

McGrath was ousted by Truman after dismissing corruption hunter Newbold Morris, whose brief tenure generated much heat and publicity but never got off the ground.

Harr In Jail For Trial In September

LISBON—Sylvester M. Harr, 21, former Lisbon cab driver, was returned to Columbiana County Thursday afternoon, but will not go on trial for the slaying of Mike Zlatar until sometime during the September term of court.

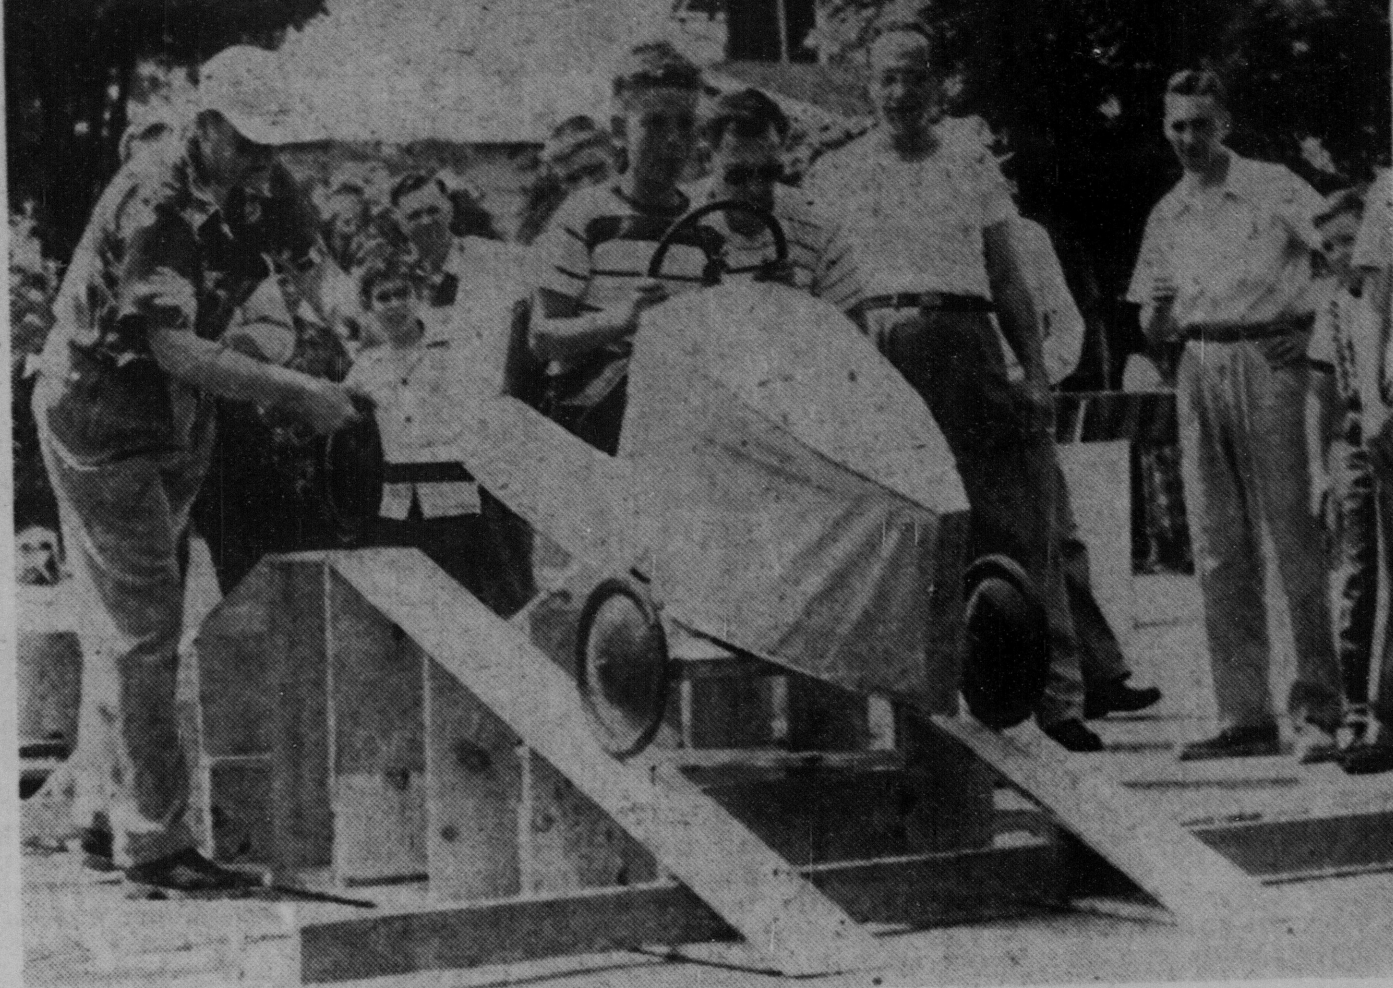

Harr was indicted by the April grand jury on a second degree murder charge in a fatal beating during an argument at the 70-year-old Center Township farmer's home last January. Harr admitted the slaying to local authorities.

Deputy Sheriff Al Hartman returned Harr from Blair County, Pa., where he has been held in jail since January for a Holli-daysburg service station robbery.

Harr has been taken to the Mahoning County jail and will be returned to Lisbon in about a week for arraignment. His campaign in the Pennsylvania robbery, John J. Humphries, 33, of Lisbon, will be returned here later on a non-support warrant.

Controls Extension Bill Under Firm Control Of Its Critics

BULLETIN
The House voted to end price controls on virtually all consumer goods. The vote was subject to reconsideration.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The wage, price and rent control extension bill was under the firm control of its critics in the House today. The only question appeared to be how sharply they would choose to modify its terms.

A series of test votes yesterday established that a coalition of Republicans and Southern Democrats could call their own shots and back them up with votes.

President Truman's lieutenants admitted they do not now have the power to prevent (1) an amendment telling Truman he should use the Taft-Hartley Law in the steel strike, or (2) a companion move to strip the Wage Stabilization Board of its power to act in industrial disputes.

Both proposals were expected to come up for votes today, with the House scheduled to meet at 9 a. m. (EST), two hours earlier than usual.

Truman told a news conference yesterday Congress has no power to make him use the Taft-Hartley Law, with its 80-day no-strike injunction provision.

The President said the possible use of the law has been under consideration all along. But he indicated he is still reluctant to use it. And he questioned whether the striking CIO United Steelworkers would obey a back-to-work order from a court.

House Democrats said they hoped to complete action on the controls bill today. Some Republicans thought the measure might have to be put over until next week.

The bill, containing all the basic economic control powers, is due to expire at the end of this month. The Senate already has passed an extension bill, but differences between this and the version finally adopted by the House must be adjusted in conference.

The administration took several hard lumps yesterday and appeared in for even rougher treatment today.

Rep. Bolling (D-Mo) made a fruitless effort to give the President power to seize and operate the steel mills up to six months. That was ruled out of order and the House didn't get a chance to vote.

Taft Flays Ike, Raps 'Me Tooism'

Senator Lashes Out At General's Views

NEW YORK (AP)—Sen. Robert A. Taft blasted Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower on domestic and foreign issues last night, scorned a "me-too" type of presidential campaign and lambasted "New Deal" Republicanism.

In a nationally televised program, "Answer to Abilene," Taft spoke out on vital issues while taking verbal pot-shots at Eisenhower, his chief contender for the GOP presidential nomination.

Taft claimed he has gained in both popular and convention delegate strength since Eisenhower came home from Europe. Concerning delegates, he said: "I can't find a single one that Gen. Eisenhower's gained."

Taft accused Eisenhower of being ill-informed on, not understanding, or shifting his views on several issues—particularly reduction of government expenditures.

"I think the General has gone back on the 40 billion tax cut," said Taft. "... I don't think he could have meant that, because ... you couldn't have any armed forces at all, unless you have complete disarmament, with any such tax cut."

(Eisenhower was variously quoted in New York a week ago both as saying he favored a 40 billion dollar tax cut and a 40 billion dollar budget cut over several years. In Denver last night the general said he had referred to a cut of 30 to 40 billions in the federal budget—not in taxes.)

The Ohio senator urged an immediate end to price controls, repudiation of Truman administration foreign policies, gradual elimination of the draft, continuation of farm price supports with qualifications, and a personal platform stressing individual liberty.

If elected President, he promised, he would balance the budget during his first year in office.

No Wheat Curbs To Be Levied In '53

WASHINGTON (AP) — Because of uncertain world conditions, American farmers can grow all the wheat they want to in 1953 despite an expected surplus this year.

Secretary of Agriculture Brannan said Thursday the international situation makes it advisable to produce as much wheat as possible to help feed friendly nations and to maintain supplies for defense purposes.

Brannan said this year's indicated near-record crop of 1,326,000,000 bushels—second largest on record and a third larger than last year—normally would force him to order controls to hold down production.

8 In Hospital As Cars Crash On Rt. 62 Hill

Teen-age Driver Held; Three Persons Hurt In Rt. 14 Accident

Eight persons are in hospitals today as the result of two of three traffic mishaps which occurred in this area Thursday.

Teen-age drivers were involved in each of the two injuring-dealing accidents.

Seven persons were hurt, six seriously, at 7:30 p. m. when a southbound car driven by Nicholas G. Hlywa, 16, of North Jackson, smashed head-on into an approaching auto driven by Hamilton S. McGregor, 41, of Youngstown on Route 62, a mile north of Canfield.

Hlywa was cited by patrolmen for passing on the crest of the hill and was turned over to juvenile authorities.

One Victim "Poor"
Most seriously injured was a passenger in the Hlywa auto, Thomas Bish, 17, of North Jackson. He sustained a skull fracture, internal injuries and multiple lacerations of the body. He was admitted to Youngstown South Side Hospital where his condition is reported poor today.

The five occupants of the McGregor auto were also admitted to the hospitals and are reported in "fairly good" condition today.

McGregor sustained chest and internal injuries and lacerations of the face; his wife, Ellen, 35, suffered a fractured right leg and multiple lacerations of the face and hand.

A son, Hamilton F. McGregor Jr., four, sustained internal injuries and another son, Bruce, aged one, suffered severe lacerations of the head and a skull fracture. Hazel Boyer, 67, of Youngstown, received a fractured left leg and a dislocated right shoulder.

Hlywa sustained a possible neck injury and lacerations of the face but was not admitted to the hospital.

Hurt When Car Upsets
At noon yesterday a car driven east on Route 14, the Washington-Columbiana Rd., a half-mile east of Washingtonville by Basil Blackson, 17, of Alliquippa, Pa., went out of control, left the road and rolled over.

Basil sustained lacerations of the left hand and right cheek and a passenger in his car, Harold Wright, 17, of Alliquippa, Pa., suffered lacerations of the right arm and hand. They were admitted to Salem City Hospital where each is reported in "fairly good" condition today.

Another passenger in the car, Thelma Lockhart, 26, of Cleveland, suffered a laceration of the left leg and was admitted to the hospital. The car was demolished.

Truck Also Wrecked
Shortly after that accident occurred a truck-trailer driven east on Route 14 by Harry Culyer, 31, of Baltimore, Md., went out of control and overturned as it approached the scene of the previous mishap.

The trailer was practically demolished and its cargo of ironing boards, peanuts and other items was scattered over the area. Patrolmen estimated that damages to the truck-trailer and its cargo might reach $35,000. Culyer was uninjured.

Foreign Aid Bill Signed By President

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Truman today signed the $6,447,730,750 foreign aid bill.

The amount is 18 per cent less than he had declared was the minimum necessary for next year.

The cuts were imposed by a Congress which voiced support for the principle of foreign assistance but sharply criticized some aspects of the President's program.

This measure merely authorizes the expenditure of $6,447,730,750 in effect setting that total as a ceiling for military and economic assistance during the fiscal year beginning July 1. The actual appropriations still have to be voted, with the possibility that the whole question of foreign aid may be debated again.

Five Cars Damaged In City Accidents

Three cars were involved in an accident which occurred at 1:40 p. m. Thursday in front of the Salem City Hospital on E. State St.

A car driven east by Phillip Marotti of New Castle, Pa., struck the rear of an auto operated by Richard Caldwell of 1212 N. Ellsworth Ave. who had stopped behind a car driven by P. H. Anderson of 240½ E. Fourth St. The Caldwell auto was pushed into the rear of Anderson's car by the impact. Some damage was caused to each vehicle.

Cars driven by Mrs. Ione Demes of RD 4, Salem, and Rose Crawford of 552 E. Eighth St., collided on Jennings Ave. at 5:20 p. m. Wednesday, causing slight damage to each auto.

THE DRUG STORE is but one unit in a complex pattern of businesses and professions, all of which serve the needs of the community. But it is unique in that pharmacy is both a business and a profession.

A business built on service to the sick cannot be restricted to usual "business hours." The need for medicine and sickroom supplies is usually immediate and urgent. In times of widespread illness, the twenty-four-hour day seems all too short. We are ready, day or night, to serve the pharmaceutical needs of the community.

Roving Reports By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Ladies, there are storm signals in the news hinting that everything is rising in value today except wives.

Are wives over-inflated? Should they be put under controls? These issues have been raised by two recent items of interest to every thoughtful woman, and by that, of course, I mean every woman:

1—A British judge, granting a divorce to a husband whose wife ran off with another man, cut the husband's claim for damages from $700 to $210, and said:

"Her value to her husband was diminishing from year to year because of disagreements."

2—Dr. Samuel W. Stevenson, a Virginia professor, describing women as "the arch foe," called for a new St. George to emancipate American men and give them four new freedoms, to wit:

"Freedom from nagging, freedom from backseat driving, freedom to relax in old clothes after a hard day's work, and freedom from indigestion."

Observing with sad hilarity that men no longer deserve the title "Mice" as women are afraid of mice, he said "We have become worms."

It is high time, the good professor added, that men force the restoration of the word "obey" in the marriage ceremony. He thinks men also ought to decide when they need a haircut, pick their own clothes and their wife's hats, and decide whether "The Jones are to be kept up with or not."

But this was his most revolutionary idea:

"No women, married or single, shall be permitted to speak of her intuition until she had kept in writing for one year an accurate account of all her snap judgments and has compiled a record of at least 60 per cent accuracy."

The average wife would leap at this chance to show Dr. Stevenson up. Any woman instinctively knows enough about double entry book-keeping to prove her intuition is at least 99 per cent correct—not a lame 60 per cent.

Nor can we see many wives getting thin from worrying over the professor's bugle call for a male rebellion in America. If husbands have become worms in this country it is through sheer laziness, the abandonment of masculine responsibility to the philosophy of "let the little woman do it." Such worms are unlikely to turn in revolt. They don't want any more authority. They'd rather go on being spoiled and petted.

But that British judge's decision is an entirely different matter. It strikes at the very heart of women's theory of power.

Does any wife want it written in the lawbooks that her value decreases "from year to year because of disagreements?" It is an uneasy precedent.

Husbands might start going in to court, saying:

"Judge, I want a divorce, and don't give me any nonsense about alimony. My old lady and I have had so many disagreements she isn't worth a plugged nickel, and I hereby give her away free."

Wives have just the opposite view. They figure the tears they give a man during their best years have a real dollar value to him.

"Why, if it weren't for the arguments I gave my silly husband we'd both have ended up in the poorhouse three weeks after the honeymoon," is the way they'd sum it up. And it is certainly true many a husband does need a wife with a permanent rave to keep him from making bankruptcy a habit.

Girls, it might be a good idea to write to the wife of that British judge and tell her to give him a good heart-to-heart talk on the facts of married life.

Bonds May Be Issued To Meet Relief Demands

YOUNGSTOWN, O. (AP)—Mahoning County commissioners indicated today they are considering issuing $250,000 in bonds against delinquent taxes to help meet increased demands for relief from striking steelworkers. In 1949 commissioners issued $100,000 in bonds to finance higher relief costs during a steel strike.

County officials said an end to the current steel strike would render a new bond issue unnecessary, but meantime they plan to ask the state tax commissioners for authority to sell $250,000 in bonds for relief purposes.

Higher Prices, Shorter Pork Supply Seen

WASHINGTON (AP)—Higher prices and smaller supplies of pork for next fall and winter were indicated today in an Agriculture Department report.

The department said farmers produced nine per cent fewer pigs during the spring season this year than a year ago. Spring pigs reach slaughter weights in the following fall and winter.

Nevertheless, total meat supplies may be a little larger because of prospective increases in marketings of beef cattle, calves, sheep and lambs.

Pork supplies may continue below the past season's level well into 1953. The report forecast pig production in the coming fall season also would be nine per cent below a year ago. Fall pigs go to market during the following spring and summer.

The downturn in production was said to reflect unfavorable prices of hogs in relation to production costs, particularly the cost of corn and other feeds. A relatively short corn crop last year caused feed prices to advance during a period when hog prices were declining.

The indicated total production of pigs for 1952 was put at 93,107,000 head compared with 102,189,000 last year and 92,554,000 for the 10-year average.

More Water On The Way

It's reasonable to assume that Salem's water consumption far exceeds the supply. At least, at certain times.

But there are periods of gain in supply in the standpipes and reservoir when the domestic and industrial usage slackens off. It's a question of supply and demand being constantly matched so that the needs of citizens and industries can be fulfilled.

Water Superintendent B. V. Bevier's admission that 300,000 gallons of water had "disappeared" from the Stewart Road reservoir set the stage for public criticism.

It's no secret the City of Salem is short on water supply. That's why the East Cold Run Reservoir project was engineered and is being rushed to completion. Possibly by fall, the city can speak in terms of millions of gallons, instead of buckets full.

Water department patrons already are paying higher rates to pay off this $1,550,000 indebtedness. But if the public can be assured of a 660-million gallon water reserve capable of meeting all requirements, the complaints probably will be in the minority.

The city will still have its 16 well fields, available for standby use. These should not be abandoned. No growing city has ever had too much water since Noah built the ark.

Do It Right!

One of the things needed to give the Schuman plan for Europe a fair break is a capital. Since this would be a common ground for settling fundamental economic problems of France, West Germany, Italy, Luxembourg, Belgium and the Netherlands, it should be a kind of European capital city.

In fact, it is being pointed out with amazement by correspondents that Europeans at last are beginning to think of themselves on the military and economic planning level as citizens of a kind of federation. For the first time, European nationalism is beginning to broaden out.

The point in choosing a Schuman plan capital should be to avert the shortcomings which plague the capital cities. Hehe is a historic opportunity to write on a clean slate. For once, a capital can be designed to do what a capital is supposed to do—bring public problems to a sharp focus without distractions and pressures.

A level place should be blasted on a peak of the Matterhorn. On it should be erected one small building, just large enough to hold the people with a right to be there—no room for lobbyists, entertainers, 5 per centers, caterers, guests or bureaucrats. There should be no central heating and no laundry; therefore no dilly-dallying. The Europeans should do the thing right.

Also Private Enterprise

Potatoes have dropped back into the obscure spot which nature intended that they should occupy. Unless there is a shortage next spring, everybody who wants potatoes will be able to get them at a price determined by the counter-balancing forces of supply and demand. The deadlock was broken when the government gave up its futile experiment in price control.

But before the potato story of 1952 is forgotten, one detail should be straightened out for the warped minds of union-labor propagandists smearing farmers and potato suppliers for the recent scarcity of potatoes and claiming this was un-American, etc.

It's a fact that potato growers and handlers were not happy about potato price controls. They wanted to get all the traffic would bear while demand was high. To some extent, they took advantage of the shortage to do just that.

But let's hear no nonsense from union propagandists about this being an excuse to slap down farmers and suppliers for un-American behavior. Americans taking advantage of national defense needs to drive hard bargains with their employers in manufacturing and service lines should be the last ones to use that line of talk.

Senator Taft was saying the other day there could be worse things than strikes, and he meant loss of the liberty which lets people strike for what they believe they are entitled to have. That, too, is private enterprise in operation—the same private enterprise which union propagandists growl about when someone else relies on it.

We can look for one peach crop to be a big success during June if there are the usual number of marriage licenses.

Here's hoping you get in the pink during vacation—but not that you wind up in the red!

Maybe we shouldn't blame the politician for clouding the issue. He may be in the dark himself.

The same slogan now is just as appropriate for the home garden as it is for government bonds—dig down!

Our Stake In Europe

By DAVID LAWRENCE

'U. S. Committed For Sake Of Democracy

The peace of the world rests in the hands of small groups of men in London, Paris, Berlin, and Rome. In each capital the groups consist of two sets of influential men—the persons who hold the responsibility of government and those men who, by one artifice or another, demagogic or emotional, ideological or political, are determined to upset the government in power.

This is the luxury of democracy—the right to political division, the right of free speech, and the right to commit national suicide.

The answer which dictators have made—and they may rise again in Europe to convince the bewildered and helpless peoples that democracy is a clumsy and ineffective institution—is not, however, to abandon democracy but to organize it. There is nothing which an organized democracy cannot do in its own interest and to preserve its independence. But the problem is more difficult because democracies are reluctant to impose self-discipline—to set up an organized economy.

IT USED TO BE that dictators seized the processes by which public opinion is made—the radio and the press—and imposed their will that way. But democracies today likewise have a powerful influence with the press and the radio. What is lacking today is leadership and statesmanship.

Too many of the men who hold governmental powers are neither imaginative nor bold—they act as if the problem of government, with millions of people to govern, can be solved by high-sounding speeches and high-brow orations. The policies in London, Paris, Rome and Berlin have been of a defensive variety, with all eyes on the maneuvers of a political opposition, and not affirmative policies to get at the economic weaknesses that make votes for the political opposition.

Stalin, like Hitler and Mussolini, knows the defects of the democratic process and is betting on such defects to bring about the economic and political disintegration which will enable the Communists or their "left wing" brethren—the extreme socialists—to get into power and play ball with Moscow.

It is amazing to note the inroads already made among the socialists of Britain, Germany, France and Italy by Communist doctrine. Stalin has only to be patient—if things go on as they are today, he will control all of Europe through his stooges in all the so-called free countries. He will keep the democracies weak and disorganized. He will keep them from arming effectively for defense because he already has allies in Britain, France, Italy and Germany who don't want to rearm for fear of offending Stalin.

BUT WHERE DOES the United States fit into this picture? This is one of the most tragic aspects of the whole problem. In Washington, too, there are two sets of people—those in the government and in Congress, Republicans and Democrats, who have tried to help Europe with economic and military aid, and those inside and outside the government who would scrap economic and military aid tomorrow because they think that course would be politically popular in America.

But along with these groups is still another segment of opinion—unhappily growing larger—which can't see what the American policy is accomplishing and who glibly refer to an ungrateful Europe or to money "poured down the rat-hole." This, in turn, causes uneasiness and apprehension in Europe and tends to weaken the governments in power.

This unfamiliarity with the true situation in Europe—a situation that can force a third world war which America is committed by the North Atlantic Treaty to enter at once—makes the question of United States policy difficult to formulate and to administer.

Europeans privately will say America doesn't intervene strongly enough, while other Europeans publicly accuse the United States of meddling in the internal affairs of supposedly free countries.

America is still an innocent bystander in Europe, trying to help by money and by troops and by moral support—to establish strong democracies. But American policy gives the impression nevertheless of being hesitant and wavering and of failing to give due weight to the political currents that arise from an indestructible nationalism in every country in Europe.

Ideas like the "United States of Europe" or a federation of European states are very good as objectives, but they are and will be subjected to attacks from a nationalism which will never die.

THE DILEMMA is how to mix the proper dosage of internationalism with the proper dosage of nationalism. Pride of country, patriotism, and a national spirit are closely akin to national morale and the will of a people to fight. To abandon these in a welter of phrases about a supra-national authority or the importance of "yielding national sovereignty" is an intellectual exercise which ignores the realism of human nature, the barriers of language, and what has made voters in the past and will make them in the future embrace communism of Fascism or any other "ism" that gives them a job and shelter.

The standard of living in European countries is indescribably low when compared to the American standard. There is much more opportunity for the demagogue in the so-called free countries of Europe than most Americans can possibly imagine, for they have not seen the squalor and poverty of Europe in a postwar era.

Americans might as well adjust themselves to the fact the reconstruction in Europe is a long, tedious job which will require American dollars, American advice, American moral support and, above all, American statesmanship for at least another ten years and perhaps more.

The alternative? Political and economic chaos and more cemeteries in Europe with rows of white crosses bearing names of Americans from every state in the Union.

Uncle Ef Says

If the potato shortage continues, the diet gabbers will lose a big topic of conversation. They can't brag about their show of will-power in going without potatoes if there aren't any.

Natural Result of Mistaking Fairness for Weakness

The Berlin Question

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

As long as General Eisenhower was safeguarded by an exalted position, the discussion of the Berlin question was academic. Today, since he is a candidate, this question looms large.

It is increasingly more difficult to explain why we are now involved in all the complications concerning Germany, including the need for the costly Berlin airlift, the division of Germany into East and West, the division of Berlin into zones without an adequate entrance and exit. Some students attribute our troubles in Korea to the strengthening of the Russian position at the Elbe river. Korea has cost us about 120,000 casualties including 20,000 dead.

Errors of judgment can be made with the best of intentions and may even have some justification. Thus far, these are General Eisenhower's explanations:

1. AT A MEETING of the Association of the Bar of the city of New York, on March 3, 1949, he said:

"... Your question seems to imply that the decision not to march into Berlin was a political decision. On the contrary, there is only one person in the world responsible for that decision. That was I. There was no one who interfered with me in the slightest way."

"Until the day I die, there is one thing that I will testify to in favor of or on the side of Mr. Roosevelt's skill in handling a country at war. When he put his men into the field, he did not interfere with them as long as he left them there."

Then Eisenhower described the situation at that moment:

"The Russians had attacked on January 12th, and that attack, you will recall, had carried them clear across the Oder. They had a bridgehead west of the Oder, and strong forces within thirty miles of Berlin. They told us that coincident with our leaping forward from the Rhine they were ready to attack again. So I sent around to Moscow the details of my plan. I saw no possible chance of going 300 miles, crossing the Elbe at the end of 250 miles, a big river, getting in and surrounding Berlin, with the Russians having to attack from thirty miles off.

"Now, another great problem arose: When two friendly forces are moving toward each other directly to crush like a nutcracker an enemy in between, you get a very serious problem... Today your fighter bombers range out 200 miles ahead of you. They are whiplashing and knocking down everything they see in your path."

"As those two friendly forces come together... the danger of lunging into a battle between friends is very, very great, and that is multiplied when you realize that you cannot speak the other's language at all. All you can do is switch your radio on to talk to each other and tell them where to stop and what to do. 'And, for goodness' sake, Joes, stop shouting. This is Ike.' (Laughter)"

There is more of the same which I omit without distortion.

AT DETROIT, on June 14, 1952, General Eisenhower returned to the subject. He first repeated much of the above. He added:

"What was the great point in attacking it and capturing it (Berlin), particularly as our political bosses had already told us that the line we must occupy was 200 miles to the west. After we had captured the line of the Elbe and captured Leipzig, we had to retreat 150 miles from there to get back where our bosses had already told us we must go."

"And, finally... Marshal Zhukov—a slightly different type of Russian—told me that he used 22 divisions, 2,500 guns and suffered about 10,000 casualties taking this destroyed city of Berlin. Now, none of these brave men of 1952 have yet offered to go out and pick out the 10,000 American mothers whose sons should have made the sacrifice to capture a worthless objective."

This is the Eisenhower story with its essential contradiction. Between 1945 and 1952, a series of events have occurred involving us in a "cold war" in Europe, a fighting war in Asia, and a remobilization of forces in this country, including a conscript army of 3,500,000. We have also been forced to spend about $40,000,000,000 on European aid, including the subsidy of NATO.

Therefore, the question does arise as to whether Eisenhower's judgment has been justified by the course of events and history.

Sharper Wit Needed

By RAYMOND MOLEY

The political reporter who for many years has been an unsung hero has in the very important year, 1952, a matchless opportunity. He is appearing in print, on the radio and in television with the leading statesmen of the land. But by and large he will have to sharpen his wits and improve his manners if he is to realize the full fruits of this matchless opportunity.

The old-fashioned political speech is under what may or may not be a temporary shadow. To begin with, mechanical means of dissemination have put all but the most accomplished performer at a great disadvantage. There is nothing exciting about looking at the average politician as he reads a speech. That is particularly true since television brings the speaker so close to the viewer and listener.

The dreadful truth emerged as we saw a man who was supposed to be the very mirror of winsome charm speaking at Abilene. The picture brought to us was that of a nervous, harried man throwing out his words in sharp and rasping barks. Taft's barks may be worse than his bites but he never delivered a speech so badly as did Eisenhower in Abilene.

The great appeal of the Bryans and the La Follettes of another generation was that they were not near us and that they could act as well as speak. A battery of microphones and a written speech have shorn away most of the arts of oratory.

Another and more important reason for the decline of the political speech is the fact that the practice of ghost writing has made cynical listeners of almost all of us. Few people believe that a written speech by a major candidate is an authentic product of the speaker's brain.

The praise, if any, is bestowed upon the unknown writer and the blame, if any, is directed at the person who delivers the speech or at his managers. Only the development of the art of extemporizing can rescue the formal political speech.

This decline in the art of the formal speech has brought the press conference to the fore. It is, properly conducted, an admirable way to test a candidate, to provide the public with a measure of the issues as well as of the men among whom they must make choices. And the multiplication of television shows built upon the press conference brings them to millions more than through other media.

Sunday has come to be the big day for those shows and their importance is recognized by the fact that their content often becomes front page news Monday. Those reporters and editors who participate have a grave but a glittering opportunity to do something not only for themselves but their profession. I watch these shows because it is clearly a part of my business, as a journalist, to do so.

"Meet the Press" is, in my judgment the best of them.

But there are on other shows far too many irrelevant questions. Also there are rude, unfair and insulting questions. A prize example was a question addressed to Gen. Al Wedemeyer recently. In substance it asked him what job Taft had offered him for his support. This was an allegation of a criminal act. It was also indescribably bad manners. People just don't ask a distinguished man like Wedemeyer such a question.

These breaches of manners and intelligence crop up in press conferences such as those held by Gen. Eisenhower. The are injurious to the press. The are throwing a baleful light upon the whole profession of journalism.

Once Over

By H. I. PHILIPS

We View With Alarm

A realization that they are on television has startling effects on human beings. This may be strikingly demonstrated if telecasting of surgical operation goes much further. The use of a particularly powerful anaesthetic may be necessary to keep some patients from sitting up, waving at the video audience and chirping, "Hi ya, folks!" And it is conceivable that the first words to some lad or lassie emerging from the ether will be "How did I do?" and "How long before I will be well enough to get an agent?"

Following the telecast of an operation during a convention of the American Medical Association, with a potential audience of 30,000,000 video fans, doctors are reporting a notable desire for minor surgery in some circles. There have been people so anxious to get on television that they have offered to go under the knife to get a booking on a popular channel. "Getting such people on television is not beyond a surgeon's powers," one physician explained to us the other day, "but it could take more than medical skill to GET THEM OFF."

There could be a stampede to operating rooms. The plea, "Never mind the anaesthetic, doctor; just wheel up two cameras!" and "Unless this is over a national network I want this operation postponed" could become routine cracks. Then, too, there will always be the type who will be troublesome if the applause seems for the doctor and not for him. There are physicians, of course, who react a little feverishly to photography, and we can foresee a tendency to "ham up" the entire medical proceedings, pausing for surgeon identification, a line of humorous patter with the nurses some incidental music, a ballet of interns and a plug for the institution with a fervent "No other hospital gives you the satisfaction given by this one. In over one thousand cases, not a doctor has been lost." (All we hope is that there is no urgent plea to "Tear and compare!")

There can easily come a time when the surgeons will want credit lines... "Diagnosis by Dr. Milton Schribbs, Surgery by Dr. O. P. Skiddicrew, Incidental Assistance by Intern Gregory Butts, Direction by the Resident Staff, Entire Production by Keep Yourself in the Pink Production, Inc. And many a patient will insist upon top billing and complete data on such facts as the supporting cast, the scenic arrangements and station coverage. Ten years from now we may hear of the fellow who blames his lack of success to the fact he was never sick enough to get on video.

Audience reaction is something else again. We do not look for any warm feeling for such telecasts until some physician with the approach and manner of Arthur Godfrey shows up. Until such time as this we think the doctors on video will be subject to the constant living-room criticism. "His routine is terrible. See what other surgeons are on the air tonight!"

VANISHING AMERICANISMS

"We mustn't go out and leave the children." "Peanuts, five cents a bag!" "But what will be the public reaction?" "We can't get away with this." "Let's take a taxi; it's faster."

It begins to look as if no Republican should go into the coming convention without an iron helmet.

Ike Eisenhower and John Foster Dulles are holding conferences on park benches. Haven't the Taft forces found a way to get possession of those things?

An official of a New York firemen's association pleaded guilty to appropriating thousands of dollars belonging to the organization. He probably wanted to go up the ladder too fast.

Campaign Couples

Both Doug and Ike Say, "I no like."

We wonder what the kids on the sandlots, looking at baseball as the great American game to guide their ideals, think of that recent episode in which big-league players gloated over the dismissal of the manager and described his firing as the greatest emancipation from slavery since Lincoln. Talk about poor sportsmanship!

How can we have spent 100 billions on defense since the outbreak in Korea, Baruch asks, and have so little to show. In the thoughtful phrase of Mortimer Snerd, "it ain't easy."

Dora has a brother, too, who is none too conscious. Thought that Chanel 5 was a station on TV.

Rest, Warm Climate Aids Multiple Sclerosis

Multiple sclerosis is a disease of the nervous system which was formerly considered rather rare in this country, but seems to be becoming much more common. It is said that there are probably close to 100,000 persons afflicted with this disease in the United States alone. The cause of multiple sclerosis remains unknown and there is no specific treatment for it, such as is available for pneumonia or appendicitis.

However, a group of interested citizens and doctors have formed the National Multiple Sclerosis Society, 270 Park Ave., New York 17, New York, an organization aimed at raising funds to promote research and to improve the care of those who are stricken with this unfortunate malady.

Before discussing multiple sclerosis further, it should be emphasized that no one should jump to the conclusion that he or she has this disease merely because some of the symptoms are present.

The diagnosis is not always simple, and must be made by a skilled physician; I was told that when I discussed this disease on a previous occasion, the society referred to was deluged with letters from people who did not have multiple sclerosis at all.

It attacks several parts of the nervous system and it is for this reason that it is called "multiple." The symptoms vary, depending on what parts of the nervous system are involved. Since the location varies there are no completely typical symptoms, though seeing double, a trembling or tremor when trying to pick up some object, and a gait which looks somewhat like that of a drunken person are probably the most common. One or all of these may be absent.

Many theories have been suggested about its cause but none of them have held water so far. Also, many treatments have been tried including artificial fever, the use of drugs to delay blood coagulation, attempts to desensitize to allergies, vaccines and others.

It appears that long rest is the best form of treatment during the acute stage of multiple sclerosis.

The disease tends to go through periods of great improvement. If these good periods can be lengthened and the bad ones shortened, it is a good sign.

A warm climate and freedom from colds and other infections of the nose and throat may help to prevent the downswings of the disease. The hope for conquering multiple sclerosis lies in research.

Top Socialist In U.S., Member 25 years, Quits

SEATTLE (AP)—Maynard Krueger, University of Chicago professor who was the Socialist party's vice presidential nominee in 1940, says he is quitting the party after 25 years' membership.

Krueger, here as a lecturer at the ninth annual Institute of International Relations, said Thursday night the American Socialists as "a ticket - running organization" are useless.

At the same time, he endorsed Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois for the Democratic presidential nomination and listed Averell Harriman as his second choice.

The economics professor said he still was in sympathy with the world movement of socialism, but not with the party in the United States.

British Embassy Fire Causes $10,000 Damage

WASHINGTON (AP)—A midnight fire at the British embassy threatened the main chancery, scorched an annex and did an estimated $10,000 damage before it was brought under control.

Sir Oliver Franks, the British ambassador, came into the chancery lobby wearing a topcoat over his pajamas to watch the blaze. He was joined by other embassy residents, none of whom were evacuated.

The only injury was to a fireman whose hand was burned.

Army Expert Criticizes Modern Home Cooking

ALDERSHOT, England (AP)—All that talk about mother's home cooking being so good is the bunk, says a British Army expert on food. The fact is the modern English mother can't cook, Maj. A. P. Nicholson of the Army Catering Corps told competitors in an Army cooking contest here.

"Apart from the fact most of our young folk have been so badly fed at home, most of them can't tell one kind of meat from another," the major said. "The only vegetables they appear to know are cabbage and canned peas."

"Gone are the days," he added, "when boys boasted of mother's apple pie."

The new Mrs. Sobotka was Martha Hinckley, daughter of Mrs. Enid Hinckley of 733 Newgarden by Rev. Raymond J. Hunter. The son of Mr. and Mrs. John Sobotka, Jr., of RD 5, Salem.

The couple were married in the First Baptist Church at 2:30 Sunday afternoon in an impressive double-ring ceremony performed by Rev. Raymond J. Hunter. The brother of the bride, Raymond, gave her in marriage.

Nuptial Melodies

Nuptial melodies, "Indian Love Call," "The Lord's Prayer," "Ave Maria," "Because," and Mendelssohn's Wedding March, were played by Capt. Robert Barton, brother-in-law of the bride.

The bride was beautiful in a satin skirt, with a double overskirt of net terminating into a cathedral train, accentuated by a lace peplum. Her bouquet of white roses and white asters complemented the high, round neckline and tightly-fitting bodice of her gown. The long satin sleeves were pointed daintily at the wrists.

Maid of Honor

For her maid of honor Miss Margaret Hinckley, her sister; and her bridesmaids, Miss Norma Kerns of Cleveland, and Miss Eleanor Lewton, the bride chose identical gowns. Miss Hinckley's gown was aqua-colored taffeta, full-length, with a little cape with high-collared attached. Both Miss Kerns and Miss Lewton wore yellow gowns. Colonial bouquets of pink roses and asters were carried by the attendants.

Best man was Aubrey (Pete) Cain, and ushers were Virgil Kelly and Joseph Kastanek.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Hinckley wore navy blue and white with a corsage of white roses. Mrs. Sobotka was dressed in navy blue and pink with a corsage of pink roses. Grandmother of the bride, Mrs. Elizabeth Morningstar, wore a grey and white dress with a white rose corsage.

One hundred and fifty guests attended the reception, held in the church hall. They came from Toledo, Georgetown, Wellsville, Columbiana and DuBois, Pa.

Both the newlyweds were graduated from Salem High School. Mrs. Sobotka is employed by the Fiesta Shop and Mr. Sobotka works at Mullins Manufacturing Corp.

The bride's going away dress was white and she wore a blue jacket with white and blue accessories.

Chicago Readies For Conventions

Political Theme Seen In Lines Of Business

CHICAGO, (AP)—The Republicans and Democrats are returning to their favorite city next month to nominate a President and there's a definite political theme in many lines of business.

There's also feverish non-political activity in putting final touches to preparations for the two major party conventions.

Playing host to the big political shows is a huge business—although not a new role—for Chicago.

When the Republicans convene July 7 it will be Chicago's 13th GOP national convention. The Democrats open their meeting on July 21, their eighth in Chicago.

The last time both met in Chicago in the same year was 1944.

Business groups and city officials have been busy for months mapping every detail so that the delegates and convention visitors will be kept happy during their week-long stay.

Hotels, railroads, airlines, restaurants, night clubs, theaters and State Street stores have made big plans for a business boom during the conventions.

The city has arranged to have streets spick and span, with an extraspecial preening on the routes from the loop to the convention hall, the International Amphitheatre in the stockyards district.

Traffic policemen won't be too quick to give delegates and visitors a ticket for a minor violation. The 1,100 policemen who will handle traffic won't be allowed to use such familiarities as "Bud" and "Chum."

Being a presidential year, even the new toys are of a political nature. Among the new Christmas display shown yesterday were giant elephants and donkeys that double as pieces of furniture, ottomans and hassocks.

Arrangements at the Amphitheatre, which has a seating capacity of 12,000 are nearing completion. Busiest workers have been representatives of news services, radio and television stations. The Illinois Bell Telephone Company has arranged a telephone message center for delegates which will include walkie-talkie service for emergencies.

One of the major projects at the Amphitheatre was the installation of an air cooling system. Delegates thus can be assured of keeping cool during the hours of fiery oratory.

Breaking Up Koje's Prison Compounds

Brig-Gen. Haydon L. Boatner, commandant of Koje Island's prison camp, has his clean-up of the notorious compounds well under way. Of the 80,000 Red prisoners on Koje, more than 61,000 have either been shifted to smaller, more manageable compounds, or have had their present quarters thoroughly searched for contraband, Communist propaganda, bodies of murdered fellow prisoners, and home-made weapons. Boatner has announced that he has found the suspected "czar" of Koje, a fanatical Communist who masterminded the recent Koje riots and murders. Pictures below show some of the clean-up operations.

Man Confesses Part In Robbery In 1911

PGA Tourney Match Play Stages Dramatic Opening Today

Sneed, Worsham Clash Today

Pair May Duplicate Match Five Years Ago

LOUISVILLE (AP)—The golf world, in a nostalgic mood, relived one of the most dramatic of championship playoffs today as Sam Sneed, defending champion in the PGA championship, encountered Lew Worsham in a first round "sudden death" match.

There's always drama in a playoff and the excitement of that man-to-man encounter five years ago is fresh in the minds of golf fans because it was featured in an article in a national magazine only last week.

That was the time when Sneed, the "big" golfer who never has taken the elusive open title, and Worsham, a big, engaging fellow with a crooked nose, a jutting chin and not much of a reputation as a player, wound up in a tie at 282 after 72 holes at the St. Louis Country club.

Coming to the 17th green in the 18-hole playoff, Worsham was a stroke behind. Sneed overshot the green and that's where the discussion started. As Sammy tells it, Worsham stood so close that he was breathing in his ear and Sneed had to ask him to step back. Lew's version is that he was 10 or 15 feet away, looking on casually, and Sneed merely was nervous. Anyway, Sneed chipped poorly and missed his putt while Lew sank one and was even.

On the 18th they were both close to the cup. Sneed's long putt had stopped short and he stepped up

Ohioans Paired In PGA Tournament

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Here are today's pairings for Ohioans who qualified Thursday.

Clarence Doser (143), Hartsdale, N. Y., vs James Alcroft (147), Vienna.

Chick Harbert (140), Northville, Mich., vs Denny Shute (145), Akron.

Bob Carmen (143), White Plains, N. Y., vs Leonard Schmutte (147), Findlay.

Horton Smith (142), Detroit, vs Mel Carpenter (146), Detroit.

hurriedly to try again. As he began to line it up, Worsham asked: "Are you sure you're away?" Referee Ike Grainger measured and Sneed was—by an inch.

Sam stepped up again and missed his 30½ inch putt; Worsham sank his from 29½ inches and won the match, 69 to 70.

"I wasn't trying to rattle him," Worsham insisted last night. "But I knew if the one who putted first made it, the other would have to get down to tie. I wanted to be first if I could so the pressure would be on him."

"Sam and I are good friends, but I'm going to try to beat the hell out of him."

Even if there's no hard feeling between these two, the public won't be convinced. Their meeting is the one standout of the 32 first-round 18-hole matches and the 16 second-round tussles that follow immediately.

It takes the edge off all the others: off yesterday's par-burning activities over the sun-baked 6,620-yard Big Spring course and off Dutch Harrison's stellar shooting that won the medal.

Harrison, scrambling and suffering at times, shot rounds of 67-69—136 to capture the $250 medalist's prize after Sneed and a half-dozen red hot bidders failed. Former Open Champions Lloyd Mangrum and Cary Middlecott were among those who bid for records on the first nine and failed on the second.

In the end it was broad-shouldered Harry Todd of Dallas who came in with 66, best score of the day, to take second place at 137.

Today's two 18-hole rounds reduce the field to 16 players, who will continue over the 36-hole route until the final next Tuesday.

STEADY BEAT—Sharpe Note, which covered the mile in 2:02 4/5 winning California's Western Trot, cruises around the Good Time Park track tuning up for the $90,000 Hambletonian at Goshen, N. Y., Aug. 6. Bi Shively, 74, most likely will be the oldest driver.

Bliss, Gil & Chucks, Amvets Score Class AA Victories

Two tight games featured a trio of Class AA contests at Kelley Field last night as teams continued in their second round of play.

Bliss and Gil & Chucks won tight victories over Mullins and Demings, respectively, while the Amvets romped to a 13-2 decision over Sanitary.

MULLINS TOOK a one-run lead in the second inning when two singles produced a marker but Bliss came back in the fourth frame to tie the score, 1-up.

The following inning the Bliss-men rallied for two markers with only one hit after Mutt Schaeffer, Mullins hurler, had struck out the initial two batters. Mullins rallied for a single marker in the bottom of the fifth but failed to cross the needed run in the final two innings.

Schaeffer allowed the Bliss just four bingles while Mullins got just four off Bliss Twirler Dick Jackson.

GIL & CHUCKS PULLED a mild surprise as they managed a 4-3 victory over Demings, although the latter got 11 hits and the G-C nine rapped out nine.

An extra inning affair, both teams opened the game with runs in the first and third innings. Demings took the lead, 2-0, with two runs in the opening frame when Lee Hahn's triple cleared the two runners. Gil & Chucks came back in the bottom of the inning with two markers on two singles, a walk and a sacrifice.

Going scoreless in the second inning, Demings tallied their third run of the game when Hahn again powdered a Donny Bell pitch for a home run during the third frame.

Gil and Chucks scored the tying run in their half of the third inning off the offerings of Dave Ehrhart with a walk and a pair of singles.

The two teams continued into the fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh, and eighth innings but remained scoreless until the bottom of the ninth frame when Dick Ellis, who had doubled, scampered home on a single by Goose McGaffick for the winning marker. Ellis collected three hits in five trips to the plate. Hahn had two bingles for three times at bat for the losers.

The Amvet-Sanitary affair was a one-sided tilt as the Amvets scored four runs in each the first, second and sixth innings and a single tally in the fourth inning for their 13-run total. Sanitary tallied single runs in the first and second frames but went scoreless during the remainder of the contest.

Frank Lanney, who blasted three hits in four trips to the plate, homered with one on in the second inning. He also collected a double and a single. Eddie Duco also managed to get three bingles in four trips.

Indians Drop Sixth Straight

Nats Ninth Inning Rally Halts Tribe

CLEVELAND (AP)—A disconsolate figure sat, head in hands, before his locker in Cleveland Stadium. "I just don't know what's wrong," sighed Indians Manager Al Lopez. "It looks like we're on the way again, and then the roof falls in."

The Indians had just dropped their sixth straight game, a 6-3 ninth inning decision to the Washington Senators Thursday, and a four-game series with second place Boston lay ahead.

"I'm not sure what lineup will be ready for Boston," Lopez said. He explained that Ray Boone's ankle still is bothering him, Luke Easter needs more rest and Dale Mitchell is "not in good shape."

Bob Lemon (5-7) hurled for the Tribe in the opener tonight against Mel Parnell (4-4).

In Thursday's game the Indians had the score tied 3-3 when they entered the ninth inning, thanks to homers by Mitchell and Larry Doby. Then, as Lopez put it, the roof fell in.

Al Rosen fielded Mickey Grasso's bunt and threw wild to second in trying to force Mel Hoderlein who had singled. Hoderlein scored and Grasso reached third on the error. A single by Eddie Yost scored run No. 5 and Mickey Vernon drove Yost home with a double.

Early Wynn gave up 1 hit and was charged with his sixth defeat against seven victories. The victor, Connie Marrero (6-2) limited the Tribe to 11 hits.

Washington got one run in each of the first three innings.

Wynn walked Yost in the first inning and let him get to second by throwing wild in an attempt to pick him off at first. Yost scored on a single by Jackie Jensen. Pete Runnels hit his first major league homer in the second. Doubles by Earl Rapp and Mickey Vernon added another run in the third.

Mitchell's third homer gave Cleveland its first run in the third. Doby's ninth home run in the seventh scored Harry Simpson who had singled.

Robinson Can Claim Two Titles—If He Wins

NEW YORK (AP)—Sugar Ray Robinson learns today if he can become a double world's champion by whipping light heavyweight king Joey Maxim Monday night at Yankee Stadium.

Chairman Bob Christenberry and his New York State Athletic Commission will make a definite ruling on the ticklish question at its regular weekly meeting.

Indications are that the commission may be lenient with Sugar Ray — an exceptional case — although it has a rule on the books that no man can hold two titles. Robinson already is middleweight champ.

Erskine Twirls 5-0 No-Hitter Over Cubs

Brooklyn Ace Misses Perfect Game With Lone Walk; Shantz Captures 11th Consecutive Win

By ORLO ROBERTSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

The boys who know baseball best have been saying for some time that when Carl Erskine learned to control the ball consistently he would be a great pitcher.

The 25-year old Brooklyn right hander from Anderson, Ind., apparently has learned that lesson. If he hasn't there were a lot of people, including the Chicago Cubs, badly fooled yesterday as he faced only 28 men while holding the Bruins hitless for a 5-0 Dodger victory.

And the only thing that kept him from pitching the first perfect game since Charley Robertson of the Chicago White Sox retired 27 Detroit Tigers in 1922 was a walk to opposing pitcher Willie Ramsdell in the third inning.

"The only man who couldn't have hit the ball out of the park if I'd teed it up for him," said the slim Dodger hurler.

Ramsdell, who relieved Warren Hacker in the second after the league leaders had scored four runs, has made only one hit in 16 times at bat this season.

"It was going to rain any minute," Carl explained. "I was trying to hurry it up. I threw four fast balls in a hurry and just couldn't get them over."

Sure enough, rain started falling a few minutes later and the game was held up for 45 minutes. But Erskine came back ever stronger.

Erskine's feat highlighted a day of top flight pitching performances. Philadelphia's pint-sized Bobby Shantz racked up his 11th successive victory and his 12th of the season as the Athletics divided a doubleheader with the Chicago White Sox, winning 4-1 and losing 5-4.

Allie Reynolds, the big New York Yankee right hander who shuns help from relief pitchers, hurled his third shutout of the year and his 15th consecutive complete game in blanking the Detroit Tigers, 8-0.

Ivan Delock, whose regular chore with the Boston Red Sox is relief pitching, held the St. Louis Browns to five scattered hits to record his third victory, 2-0.

Little Murry Dickson of the Pittsburgh Pirates also twirled five-hit ball as the cellar-dwelling Bucs defeated the New York Giants 8-1 in an argument-studded game played under protest after the third inning.

The defeat dropped the Giants five games back of the Dodgers. Hank Edwards blasted relief pitcher Sheldon Jones for a three-run homer in the ninth to give the Cincinnati Reds a 7-4 outright victory over the Boston Braves.

In another night contest the St. Louis Cardinals bunched five tallies in the sixth for a 6-4 decision over the Philadelphia Phillies. Doubles by Hal Rice and Red Schoendienst and Cloyd Boyer's triple were the big blows.

Washington shoved Cleveland deeper into fourth place with a 6-3 victory.

Erskine struck out just one Cub but only five balls were hit to the outfield. Third baseman Bobby Morgan came up with two great stops and throws. Shortstop Pee-wee Reese and second baseman Jackie Robinson also sparkled. And Erskine himself figured in six of the putouts.

"My control did it," said Erskine who had a 16-12 record with the Dodgers in 1951 — his first full season in the majors.

"I threw a lot of curves and some fast ball. I had them hitting the pitch I wanted them to. My control was so good, I didn't have to resort to my change of pace, which is my best pitch."

In fact he threw his change-up only once in the 103 serves required for his masterpiece.

"It was to Fondy (Cubs' first baseman)," recalled Roy Campanella, who was on the receiving end of a no-hitter for the first time in his 16 years of baseball. "He had a good slider and a good curve and a live fast ball that popped."

The no-hitter, the second in the majors this season, marked the first time the Cubs had been held hitless since Fred Toney of Cincinnati did it in 1917. The other 1952 no-hitter was turned in by Detroit's Virgil Trucks against Washington May 15.

The Pirates backed up Dickson's pitching with an attack good for five runs in a hectic third inning. The rhubarb started when Dick Groat, star Duke University athlete, made his first major league hit. The single sent two runs home but an argument arose over whether outfielder George Metkovich was safe or out.

Plate umpire Babe Pinelli first called Metkovich out, then safe. The umpire claimed he changed his ruling when appraised by third base umpire Dusty Boggess that catcher Wes Westrum had dropped the throw from the outfield, which Pinelli did not see.

Some baseball fan, obviously not an ardent Cleveland Indian rooster, sent Jimmy Dudley, radio broadcaster of all Tribe games, a handkerchief recently to be used for tear drying during the Tribe's losing streak.

Dudley politely told the sender off and made it clear that he was sticking with the Clevelanders, win or lose.

The Indians are involved in their third night game of the week when they face the Boston Red Sox. The Tribesmen entertained the Washington Nats for two games Tuesday and Wednesday nights and managed to lose both tilts, plus yesterday's day contest.

The night games are beginning to tell on local fans as the ardent baseball followers remain awake while the TV sets flash the Cleveland Stadium action. Only one TV night game is slated for the Lopezmen next week.

All-Star ballots for the Major League All-Star contest at Shibe Park, Philadelphia, July 8 seem to be flowing freely. The Indians have a man in the balloting at each position, Dale Mitchell leading the group.

Mitchell is leading over former Indian Minnie Minoso for the left-field spot. He was one of three Tribesmen on the American star-studded team last year, Jim Hegan and Bob Lemon being the others.

Bob Avila, Al Rosen, Hegan and Larry Doby are currently running in second place for their respective positions. Rosen, however, is the closest to the leader, being right behind Boston's George Kell. Avila trails the White Sox's Nellie Fox for second base, Hegan is behind the Yankees' Yogi Berra and Centerfielder Doby is second to Dom DiMaggio, Soxos outfielder.

Rightfielder Harry Simpson is third in the rightfield balloting behind Hank Bauer of the Yankees and Detroit's Vic Wertz. The other two Indians who are in the running but way back are Ray Boone and First Baseman Luke Easter. Both are in fifth place in the balloting.

Rev. Richard Swogger came up with a big one Thursday afternoon while fishing at Westville Lakes. The Methodist Church pastor pulled in a 21-inch, 5 1/4-pound bass, which is the prize catch at Westville this season.

Other fishermen are also getting large catches over the various fishing grounds in this area. The area lakes have been literally crowded with Salemites, most all getting his share of the water specimens.

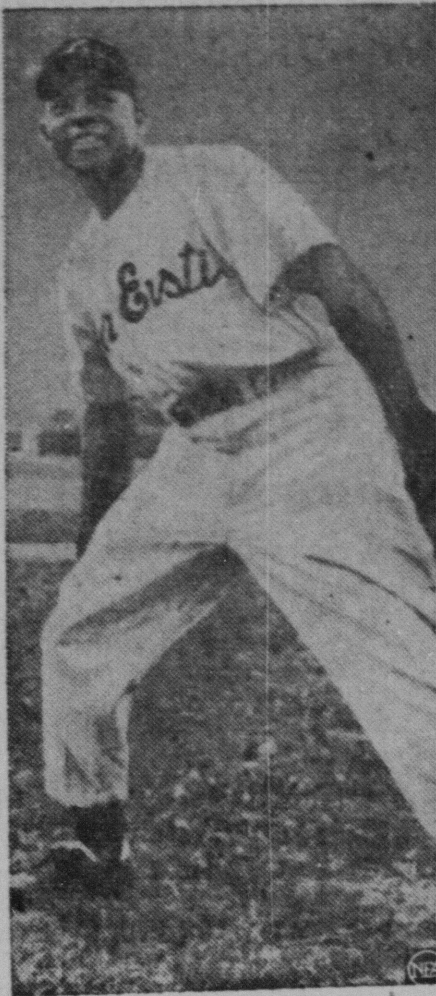

This corner welcomes any fishing news of area fishermen who are making exceptional catches.

Red Sox Sign Young Stars, Reports Say

BOSTON (AP)—Reports from widely scattered sections that the Boston Red Sox have given a total of $476,000 to six untried youngsters in recent weeks Thursday night drew a "no comment" retort from General Manager Joe Cronin.

"The Red Sox never discuss such matters," Cronin added.

It had been announced in Pomona, Calif., that Red Sox Scouts Ted McGrew and Tom Downey had signed Marty Keough, an 18-year-old southpaw pitcher, for a $10,000 bonus.

Shortly after word came from St. Louis that the Red Sox had given Frank Baumann, an 18-year-old southpaw pitcher, a reported $125,000 for signing.

Two Oregon youngsters, Edward Urness, a pitcher from the Dallas, and Jerry Zimmerman, a catcher from Milwaukee in the Portland district, had been signed to bonus contracts for $86,000 and $65,000 respectively.

And $50,000 bonus offers were reported to have lured two college catchers, Larry Isbell of Baylor and Haywood Sullivan of the University of Florida, into the Red Sox farm system.

A Pomona report said McGrew intimated the Red Sox bid higher for young Keough than the Pittsburgh Pirates did for Paul Pettit, who is said to have received $10,000 for signing two years ago.

You Can't Hit Anything If You're Not Relaxed—Burke

Thirteenth of a Series

By JACKIE BURKE

Golf's Newest Star

Don't try to think about the various parts of your swing while you are swinging.

The time for that is when you're practicing. For a free and easy swing out on the course, your mind must be free and easy.

Relaxation is the whole thing in golf. You can't hit anything if you're tense, so loosen up. If muscles tighten, the swing suffers.

You just can't say, "I want to be relaxed," and unwind. It's much more difficult than that. You've got to know how to make yourself relaxed.

And remember that you can never be loose if you are not in fine condition.

Frankly, relaxation in golf comes with experience and confidence.

They can talk all they want about the hungry prize fighter and ball player being the best one, but that doesn't hold true in golf.

A YOUNG professional, making his first tour while suffering from the financial shorts and sleeping in trailer camps, is more likely to tighten up than a more seasoned hand whose position is secure. The seasoned player who has fared well is more likely to do considerably better than all right because he has nothing to worry about.

One playing professional will be relaxed if he

Mayor Rhodes Faces $200,000 Libel Suit

COLUMBUS, O.—A $200,000 libel suit was filed here Thursday against Mayor James A. Rhodes of Columbus by Doyle Press, Inc., of West Jefferson.

Doyle Press publishes three weekly newspapers in Madison, Union and Franklin counties. The company also does job printing.

Clarence J. Doyle, president of the firm, resigned earlier this month as executive secretary to State Auditor Joseph Ferguson.

The suit charges Rhodes said Doyle Press attempted to coerce advertisers in a London newspaper to switch to "a Doyle - Ferguson publication which it proposed to circulate in Madison County."

Rhodes, Republican nominee for state auditor, will oppose Ferguson in the November election.

"The real reason for the suit is to endeavor to prevent me from making further exposures concerning State Auditor Ferguson and his chief political advisor, Doyle," he added.

"I stand prepared to back up every statement which has been made, and both Mr. Ferguson and Mr. Doyle may expect to hear further from me concerning their public and business records and operation of the past decade."

Strike

military aircraft production to date.

He added in a statement, however, that "if the strike lasts long enough there are certain to be gaps in the pipeline" of supplies and "obviously, aircraft production will be affected."

Shortages in ammunition already are appearing. One of the major items in this category is the 4.2-inch mortar shell. Even in the present stalemate phase of the Korean War thousands of these shells may be used in a single day. Each shell contains about 25 pounds of steel.

The Navy says that, although there is steel available in shipyards and work can progress in certain areas, lack of special types of steel for certain parts of a new or converted ship can stop construction.

The hull of the new atomic submarine is being built at the General Dynamics Corp.'s Groton, plant. If enough steel isn't accumulated by August, construction will be delayed, says the Navy.

The Atomic Energy Commission is a heavy user of almost all types of steel. Huge quantities of structural steel are on order for the new Savannah River and Paducah AEC plants, in addition to several other smaller projects.

Compromise Is Sought In Ohio Bell Rate Hike

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—A state utilities commission spokesman expressed hope Thursday for a compromise between the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. and eight cities which oppose that company's request for a 21 million dollar rate hike.

Commission Chairman Robert Moulton said:

"We feel that some progress has been made. We have hopes that the two opposing sides may be able to reach some sort of agreement. Ohio Bell seeks a $21,742,000 rate hike. It filed its request about a year ago. Commission hearings on the company's request will begin July 8.

The eight cities opposing the hike are Cleveland, Columbus, Canton, Dayton, Toledo, Akron, Youngstown and Girard.

COACH'S FATHER DIES

SPRINGFIELD, O. (AP)—James E. McDonald, 78, father of James McDonald, Springfield High School football coach died here today.

U.S. May Buy Planes From NATO Allies

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States announced today it is considering buying airplanes from European member nations of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

The plan would involve use of U. S. Mutual Security funds to buy planes directly from European makers, chiefly for use by European nations—instead of sending aid in the form of U. S. planes.

Ambassador William H. Draper, special representative in Europe, said the North Atlantic Council has been requested to prepare recommendations for European production of war planes to help NATO requirements.

That action, he said in a statement issued simultaneously here and in Paris, is based on a provision of the Mutual Security act.

Doctor Convicted Of Tax Evasion

CLEVELAND (AP)—A federal judge today sentenced Dr. Harold C. Schmuck, a Canton physician, to 15 months in prison. Dr. Schmuck was convicted of income tax evasion last week.

Dr. Schmuck, who is 50, was immediately taken to jail to await transportation to a federal prison. His sentence was the same that another Canton man, industrialist Fred Huseha, was given on the same charge last week.

In passing sentence, Judge Charles J. McNamee noted Dr. Schmuck already had paid $138,000 in back income taxes, penalties and interest.

This was the first time this had been disclosed. The $138,000 was for years other than those listed in the indictment. Dr. Schmuck had been charged with evading $47,386 in income taxes from 1945-47.

Burns Weston, Schmuck's attorney, said he had not yet decided whether to appeal his client's conviction.

Judge McNamee said it was "difficult" to send a professional man like Dr. Schmuck to prison. But he said many other businessmen had appeared before him from time to time on the same charge and he had weighed all the factors.

Sawyer Aided Ship Firm Over Protests

WASHINGTON (AP)—Despite objections by Comptroller General Lindsay Warren, Secretary of Commerce Sawyer today let the United States Lines have the 70 million dollar luxury liner United States for the company's contract price of 28 million dollars.

Warren objected three weeks ago that a 42 million government contribution to the ship's cost was much too generous. He urged Sawyer to hold up delivery of the ship unless U. S. Lines would agree to pay a bigger share of the cost.

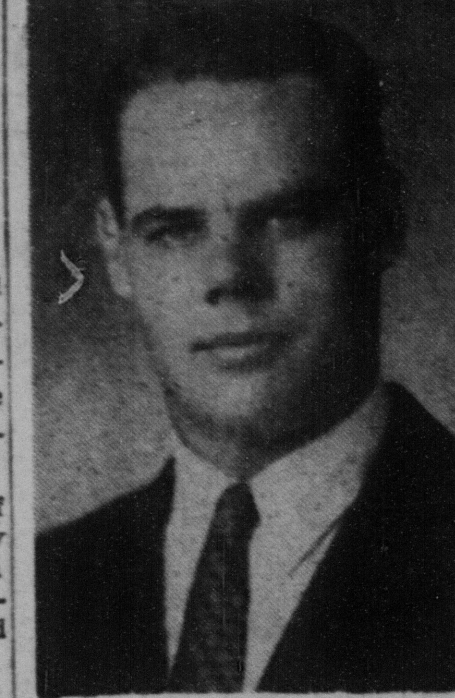

Sawyer, who replied the contract was binding and unchangeable, said today transfer of title had been completed at Hoboken, N. J. With it, he said, the ship was formally delivered and accepted by Va., where construction was completed recently.

125 Pints of Blood Collected In Lisbon

LISBON—The Red Cross Bloodmobile visit to the village Thursday was termed a huge success as a quota of 125 pints of blood was collected for the armed services, Mrs. Wayne Calhoun of Lisbon, county blood bank chairman, announced.

The unit arrived from Pittsburgh with a staff of 11. About 40 volunteer workers assisted in the collections. Mrs. Calhoun said 154 pledged donors showed up at the Legion home where donors were being taken.

Each person giving a pint of blood will receive tickets to the Pittsburgh Pirate baseball game June 28, she added.

TROY F. COPE, JR. (above) of S. Lincoln Ave. has been named to the board of directors of the Electric Furnace Co. to fill the unexpired term of his father, the late T. F. Cope. The new board member has been a sales and erection engineer for the Salem firm.

Wall Street

Railroads Dampen Advancing Stocks

NEW YORK (AP)—Railroads provided a ragged drag on the stock market today and dampened advancing tendencies.

Many leading railroads sold at small losses, and this was enough to turn that major division into an irregular pattern.

Throughout the list prices ranged from a point higher to a point lower with a few outstanding exceptions either way.

Steels held steady after overcoming early sagging tendencies. Automobiles hung to small gains.

Among higher stocks were Chrysler, Boeing, American Car & Foundry, and Standard Oil of California, Southern Pacific, American Telephone, and Radio Corp.

Crickets Threaten Town In Nevada

RENO (AP)—A horde of Mormon crickets were creeping today toward the water supply of Austin, a little mining and ranching town 150 miles east of Reno.

Residents of the community of 325, sheriff's deputies and three cricket control men from the State Department of Agriculture temporarily stopped the invasion about half a mile from the town's water reservoir yesterday.

But they ran out of poisoned mash.

Later reports placed the crickets only a quarter-mile from the reservoir.

Townpeople fear the horde will contaminate the water.

The Mormon cricket—a large, black, voracious insect—got its name by common usage after swarms invaded the grain fields of early Mormon settlers in Utah in 1850.

The fields were saved when seagulls appeared and gobbled up the crickets.

Politicians Throw In Views On Shaving Of Income Taxes

By The Associated Press

Taxes, about which every voter knows, were prime grist for the political mill today, with President Truman and the four top contenders for his job tossing in their views on the subject.

Here's what they had to say:

1. President Truman—No president, Democrat or Republican, can cut taxes 15 per cent—in fact, they ought to go up instead of down because of the federal deficit.

2. Sen. Robert Taft of Ohio—"I promise a reduction in expenses to balance the budget the first year and a tax reduction of 15 per cent the second year."

3. Gen. Dwight Eisenhower—He advocates a slash of 30 to 40 billion dollars in the federal budget—not in taxes, as he has been quoted as saying.

4. Sen. Richard Russell of Georgia—He believes the people are willing to make the present tax sacrifice to keep the nation strong. He doesn't see how taxes can be reduced without wrecking rearmament.

5. Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee—"Let us win the peace first and then talk about cutting taxes." Any such talk now, he said, amounts to daydreaming, ignorance about fiscal matters or an empty promise to get votes.

Taft and Eisenhower are one-two in the race for Republican presidential nomination. Kefauver and Russell occupy the same positions among Democrats.

The third—running Democrat, Mutual Security Administrator Averell Harriman, said in talks Thursday he could not see how either Kefauver or Russell, as southerners, could win the big blocs of Democratic votes in the north and west.

Eisenhower, he said, is a fine soldier and patriot but is a "captive" of reactionary Republican ideas. And, he added, "I disagree with Taft on practically every issue, foreign and domestic."

The Associated Press tabulation of pre-convention delegate strength for these five nominees—candidates now shows:

Republican—Taft 466, Eisenhower 303. Nomination at the July 7 convention requires 604 delegate votes.

Democrat—Kefauver 246, Russell 114½, Harriman 91½. It takes 616 to win the nomination at the July 21 convention.

Taft's remarks about taxes were made on a radio broadcast he called an "Answer to Abilene," because it was designed as a rebuttal to Eisenhower's homecoming speech.

The Ohio senator said Eisenhower is ill—informed on several issues, did not understand them or shifted his views. Taft said Eisenhower apparently came out for a 40-billion-dollar tax cut when he meant he favored a 40-billion-dollar reduction in the federal budget.

In Denver, Eisenhower told the Oregon delegation he was talking about a budget reduction all along. He explained: "I believe in the long term you must aim at a 30 to 40 billion cut in an 85-billion-dollar budget. That is what I said."

Eisenhower meets with Idaho and Washington state delegates in Denver today, then flies to Texas. It was pretty evident he intends to speak out on the Texas delegate disputes. A friend who declined use of his name said a speech Saturday will be "a rip snorter."

Taft and Eisenhower people are staking rival claims to Texas' 38-vote GOP delegation.

Dam In Ohio Renamed For Ohio Legislator

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate has voted to rename a dam in Ohio for the dean of that state's Republican congressional delegation—Rep. Jenkins.

The Burr Oak Dam on a tributary of the Hocking River would be called the "Tom Jenkins Dam" under a bill passed by the Senate Thursday.

The action is subject to agreement by the House, where no opposition is expected.
